

Cross-ownership will accomplish but one thing: hold the airwaves, the property of the people of the United States, hostage to a handful of corporate interests who have only their self-interest in mind. The ban guarantees that the principles of the Constitution are upheld by preventing oligopolies from hijacking public property.

If you allow cross-ownership, you are essentially condoning the theft of our airwaves by the selfish, self-centered, and the greedy, and last I checked, theft is a crime. I urge you not to aid and abet the robber barons of the 21st Century and keep the rules as is.
